- 1. Claims 1-18 are pending in this application.
- 2. The oath or declaration is defective because the second inventor Martin J. Mulore is not on the oath/declaration.
- 3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 4. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cheng et al. (USPN 6,151,643), hereafter "Cheng".
- 5. As to claims 1, 7, and 13, Cheng discloses the invention substantially as claimed including a method, system, and computer program embodied on a computer readable medium for improving an existing application infrastructure of an application service provider (abstract). The method comprising prompting a user to identify at least one aspect of an existing application infrastructure utilizing a network (col. 18, 16-53); receiving the identification of the at least one aspect of the existing application infrastructure utilizing the network (col. 19, lines 8-11); analyzing the at least one aspect of the existing application infrastructure using information stored in a database (col. 7, lines 54-61); and proposing improvements to the existing application infrastructure based on the analysis utilizing the network (col. 7, lines 62-64).

- 6. Cheng does not necessarily disclose using spreadsheet in the database. However, spreadsheet is well known in the art to be used as an automated table, and it would be obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to relate Cheng's database tables (col. 10, lines 63-67, and Fig. 8) to perform as a spreadsheet.
- 7. As to claims 2, 8, and 14, Cheng discloses the ability to deliver applications over the network (col. 6, lines 11-30).
- 8. As to claims 3, 9, and 15, Cheng discloses the network as wide area network (col. 6, lines 19-20).
- 9. As to claims 4, 10, and 16, Cheng discloses assessing results of the analysis and providing the user with the assessment (col. 7, lines 54-67, and col. 8, lines 1-7).
- 10. As to claims 5, 11, and 17, Cheng discloses querying the user to identify the at least one aspect of the existing application infrastructure (Fig. 17a-17-d).
- 11. As to claims 6, 12, and 18, Cheng discloses adding components of the existing application infrastructure that are currently missing (col. 7, lines 62-67, and col. 8, lines 1-20).
- 12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Nathan et al. (USPN 6,240,550); Parthesarathy et al. (USPN 6353926); Fawcett (USPN 6,327,617); Tanaka et al. (USPN 6,266,810) ; and Sampath et al. (USPN 6,266,774).
